

Reconsidering European Contributions to Global Justice

Gender and EU Foreign Policy

Thursday – Friday, 29-30 November 2018

National University of Ireland, 49 Merrion Square, Dublin

THURSDAY 29 NOVEMBER

0845 Registration
0900 Welcome

0915 Panel 1 Development and Trade I
GLOBUS Chair: Pundy Pillay

- Serena Guisti and Clara Della Valle, Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna di Studi Universitari e di Perfezionamento
“A Fragile Bottom-Up Approach: The Gender Dimension of the ENP Trough the Case of Tunisia”
- Marcia Garcia, University of Bath
“Preferential Trade and Gender”
- Kholiswa Malindini Maziyana and Odile Mackett, University of the Witwatersrand
“Trade Liberalization and Gender”

1030 Coffee break

1045 Panel 2 Development and Trade II
GLOBUS Chair: Patrick Paul Walsh

- Markus Thiel, Florida International University
“The EU’s International LGBTI rights norm promotion between norms & geopolitics”
- Johanne Døhlie Saltnes, ARENA University of Oslo
“Global justice and the promotion of sexual minority rights: Explaining donors' foreign policy responses to the Anti-Homosexuality Act in Uganda”
- Ibrahim Natil, Dublin City University
“EU Aid and Women Empowerment Programs in Palestine”

This event is part of the project "GLOBUS - Reconsidering European Contributions to Global Justice" which has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement no. 693609.

1200 Panel 3 Global Perspectives
GLOBUS Chair: Helene Sjursen

- Deep K Data Ray, OP Jindal Global University
“Engaging gender across borders: the EU, India, and an ontological ‘in’”
- Katarina Dalacoura, London School of Economics and Political Science
“Gender in the Middle East and North Africa Region: Navigating Ethical and Policy Dilemmas at the Post-2011 Juncture”

1300 Lunch

1400 Policy and Practitioner Roundtable
GLOBUS Chair: Helene Sjursen

- Karin Aggestam, Lund University, Sweden
- Niall Burgess, Secretary General, Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, Ireland
- Jennifer Cassidy, Oxford University

1515 Panel 4 Migration I
GLOBUS Chair: Sonia Lucarelli

- Laura-Kristin Eder, Saarland University and Darius Ribbe, University of Cologne
“Deconstructing “the refugee(s)” in the political debate on the policies of the European Migration Regime(s)”
- Santosh Kumar Mishra S. N. D. T. Women's University
“Gaps in Protection in Gender Aspects of International Migration: Case from Europe”
- Gillian Wylie, University of Dublin – Trinity College
“The Trafficking-Justice Paradox: Human Trafficking Discourses and the Legitimation of Europe’s Exclusionary Migration Policies”

1630 Coffee Break

This event is part of the project “GLOBUS - Reconsidering European Contributions to Global Justice” which has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement no. 693609.

1645 Panel 5 Migration II
GLOBUS Chair: Graham Finlay

- Natalie Welfens, University of Amsterdam
“The EU’s Agenda on Migration: Expanding Gender Norms in Times of Crisis?”
- Noemi Cascone, European Centre for Development Policy Management
“The integration of gender aspects into the EU Trust Fund for Africa”
- Vera Sofie Borgen Skjetne, ARENA University of Oslo
“Gender justice in EU’s migration policy: Combating sex trafficking in the face of migrant crisis“

1830 Dinner

Restaurant Hugo’s
6 Merrion Row, Dublin 2
Tel. 01- 6765955

FRIDAY 30 NOVEMBER

0900 Panel 6 Security I
GLOBUS Chair: Melanie Hoewer

- Stephanie Anderson, University of Wyoming
“Of Heroic Narratives, Knights in Shining Armour, and Damsels in Distress: How the European Union Depicts Itself in its Common Security and Defence Policy Information Campaigns”
- Roberta Guerrina, University of Surrey
“Feminist Power Europe? Between emancipation and co-optation”
- Dawn Walsh, University College Dublin
“EU mediation efforts and gender justice outcomes”

1015 Coffee break

This event is part of the project "GLOBUS - Reconsidering European Contributions to Global Justice" which has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement no. 693609.

1030 Panel 7 Security II
GLOBUS Chair: Nikola Tomic

- Anthoni Van Nieuwkerk and Loveness Nyakujarah, University of the Witwatersrand
“Exploring the role of women in African mediation: implications for the EU”
- Marjin Hoijtink, Free University Amsterdam and Hanna Muehlenhoff, University of Amsterdam
“Stepping up EU's Common Security and Defence Policy in times of crisis: the EU as a masculine military power”

1130 Panel 8 Climate
GLOBUS Chair: Franziskus von Lucke

- Jane Maher, University of Dublin – Trinity College
“A Multifscale Analysis of Gender in Climate Change Adaptation Policy and Implementation in Malawi”
- Louise Fitzgerald, University College Dublin
“An Ideational Analysis of EU climate & energy policy: implications for justice”
- Sadbh O Neill, University College Dublin
“A GLOBUS perspective on article 6 of the Paris Agreement on climate change”
- Gill Allwood, Nottingham Trent University
“Gender and Climate Change”

1300 Close and departures

This event is part of the project "GLOBUS - Reconsidering European Contributions to Global Justice" which has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement no. 693609.